Dewey's jaws closed.

The shot which struck the Texas was about the last fired by the Spaniards when abandoning the battery under the heavy and accurate fire of the Texas. It entered twenty feet above the stern of the ship, about three feet below the main deck line, cut a jagged round hole, the measurement of which indicates that it was a 6-inch projectile. Only enough, after striking the first obstruction the shell failed to explode. It passed through the hull, and then into the water.

Massachusetts and Oregon should maintain a steady fire this morning upon the batteries on each side and back of Moro Castle. BLOCKADE RUNNING-FLORISHING.

[A. P. NIGHT REPORT. COPYRIGHT, 1938.]

OFF SANTIAGO DE CUBA, Wednesday, June 22, 5 p.m., via Kingston, Jamaica, Thursday, June 23, 7:30 a.m.—With the complete investment of Santiago de Cuba by land and by sea but a few days off, the admiral has decided to strengthen the blockade of the large ports of the southern coast westward of Santiago. For several weeks the southern coast of Santiago de Cuba, to Cape San Antonio, has been practically unprotected. The blockade has been simply on paper. In name only, with the result that it is known that quite a number of ships have run the blockade and that an immense quantity of contraband has been smuggled into Havana.

Most of the blockade runners have landed their cargoes under the lee of the Isle of Pines, and thence, in small boats, etc., have been taken in small boats to Batabano, whence the railroads run to Havana, only thirty miles. The blockade runners have gone out of Jamaica, and two of them, at least, are known to have made several trips. Only last week the Pinar del Rio, a blockade runner, flying the Spanish flag, took a cargo out of Kingston, ostensibly for Manzanillo, but probably for the Isle of Pines.

The admiral has now decided that the blockade running must cease, and yesterday he dispatched four fast ships to patrol the coast from Cape Cruz to the Isle of Pines.

VULCAN SAILS FOR CUBA.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

BOSTON, June 23. The United States steamer Vulcan, formerly the passenger ship, has sailed for Cuba.

The Charleston navy yard. The vessel, which goes to join Sampson's fleet, contains tools to build every part of a naval ship and has electric equipment, and to manufacture small rapid-fire guns. Its outfit is valued at more than $300,000, and it is officered and manned by some of the best-known shipbuilding experts in this country. Her captain, Lieutenant-Commander Ira E. Geir, is one of the best educated engineers in the country. He is thoroughly conversant with naval machinery, and knows a ship from stem to stern.

Henry's division on the Harvard and Yale, these ships to make two round trips. The first trip will carry most, if not all, of Gen. Duffield's brigade. The War Department allows three days for the trip, two days to unload the troops, and three days to return to Newport News, making eight days. By that time, Gen. Garrettsen's brigade will be at Newport News, ready to go on board the ships, and then comes the second trip, taking three days, with two days allowed for Garrettsen's troops to unload in Cuba.

Reports were current at the War Department again that Gen. Miles, commanding the army, would leave the city within the next two days. It was asserted also that he had asked to get into the actual fighting by going to Cuba, and three assuming command of the troops. This was contradictory to the reports circulated a few days ago that Gen. Miles would take command of the Porto Rico expedition. When Gen. Miles' attention was drawn to the several conflicting reports today, he good-naturedly declined to discuss them. He considered it inadvisable to give any intimation as to when or where he would go. His long conference with Secretary Alger during the afternoon lent some color to the report that the general's future arrangements were under consideration.

The details of the accident on the Yankee on Decoration day have just reached the Navy Department. While the ship was at sea, a trial was made of the guns. One, a 6-pounder, under English smokeless powder, hung fire after the trigger was pulled. The gunner, without waiting, threw open the breech just as the charge exploded. The rear blast killed Corporal J. J. Murray and severely, but not seriously, wounded Private Jesse Fuller, both of the United States Marine Corps. The powder is believed to be defective, as other hang-fires have been had with it, and if used at all in the future, it will be with great caution. None of the naval millitiamen, in large part, man the Yankee, were hurt.

The British Consul at Havana, Mr. Gollan, who has so well protected such American interests in Havana as were necessarily left in his care, is to quit Havana for home leave. He has been for a long time in Havana continuously, and has been under much strain lately. During his absence Mr. Jerome, Vice-Consul, will assume charge of the consulate, along with the care of the American interests.

Representative Pearson, uncle of Naval Constructor Hobson, had another long interview today with Secretary Long respecting the reward of that hero. The Secretary is puzzled by the conflicting interests in this case. He intends to reward Hobson in accordance with the merits of his feat, but would like to do this without injustice to other officers. A study of the naval register shows that if Hobson is advanced to the grade of lieutenant-commander he will have been given a greater award than was ever known in our naval history. Cushing got fifty-six numbers and gained one year and nine months of time in his record, yet Hobson, it is calculated, will be given, if made a naval commander, 34 numbers and will gain twenty years in time. He will become senior officer of the navy in about fifteen years, and, owing to his youth, will retain that place no less than twenty years, something absolutely without precedent in the annals of the navy.

These facts are being adduced by naval officers as evidence of finding some other means of rewarding naval heroes, which, while thoroughly satisfactory to them and their friends, will work no injustice to others. As one instance of how the present practice works, the officers point to the fact that for his splendid achievement at Manila, Dewey gained only ten numbers, while, astounding as it may seem, instead of reward for his excellent management and seamanship in bringing the great battleship Oregon successfully through one of the most remarkable cruises on record, Capt. Clark actually loses three numbers through the promotion over his head of officers engaged in the battle of Manila Bay. Capt. Sigbee is cited also as a case in point, having suffered the loss of several numbers, representing a year or two of naval service, through the Manila rewards.

SOME DELAYED INFORMATION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Authentic information received by the Associated Press in a delayed dispatch, written at Santiago Monday, the 20th, and received here today, speaks of Gen. Shafter's command arriving there Monday, but said it had not yet landed.

Garcia and his men were then encamped about eighteen miles west of the city. He had 1200 men, including with him, 500 more east of the city, and about four thousand north of the city.

Garcia, the dispatch said, had a thousand men and a few cannons, and was on the road leading to the large garrison at Holguin, and some of Garcia's pickets were stationed on the road to Manzanillo. On Monday it was expected that Gen. Luque's command would try to reach Santiago. To do so it would have to march sixty-five miles over a hard road, harassed by the insurgents.

the smaller amounts of $500 or less received by the Treasury Department, there appears almost daily remittances from the banks and smaller institutions covering a long list of subscribers in small amounts. The fact that there is a small premium offered by large would-be investors, has stimulated certain persons to secure subscriptions for people who have no definite intention of investing in the bonds. The pro forma subscriptions thus obtained are then forwarded by the agency gathering them in with a draft in a round sum for payment. It is easily seen that the fair purpose of the law, which favors an honest subscription by the citizens of humbler means, may be thus circumvented.

"The Treasury has a great deal to say out for such unscrupulous persons. The case is clear enough, such subscriptions are unceremoniously returned to the sender. In other cases where doubt exists the Secretary has prepared and will send out a letter asking for a satisfactory explanation.

"Fighting Bob" and Others Send Letters of Appreciation.
[A P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Surgeon General Van Ryepon of the navy, had received a number of letters from his officers on board the ships of Admiral Sampson's squadron, testifying to their ratefulness and appreciation of the relief which ellicies had afforded for the sick and wounded have been received. These ellicies, which were made up of fruits of various kinds, etc., were purchased by the contributions received by the nurses of the hospitals and of the associations throughout the country, which have been raising funds for officers dispatched with the forces at Manila during the stop of the transports at Honolulu made a reconnaissance of the harbor, and will send a report at once. While this will not be sufficient for making plans for permanent fortifications, it will assist the officers in their preliminary work, and it is deemed necessary to take steps for the protection of the city and harbor. This can be done in short order. The engineer officer in charge of that purpose. The following is a sample of the many letters received. It is from Surgeon-General M. H. Simons of the Iowa, dated June 13, and is for the benefit of the "lightweight" men, who are the "fruit" and "fruits for the sick." The letter says: "If the ladies who sent them, could see how they are appreciated at the post, they will have nothing of the kind for nearly two months, during which time they have been continuously aboard ship in the temperature of 90 to 95 degrees. I would understand better than I can tell them how refreshing the fruits are, and how grateful all are for the article. Their usefulness which is still sending."

Capt. Evans of the Iowa made the following indorsement on this letter: "I am glad to hear of the recovery of the man, and I am glad to hear of the recovery of the man, and I am glad to hear of the recovery of the man. I can feelingly testify and do most willingly and gratefully express my thanks to the officers and crew of my ship for the delightful presents."

A letter from Surgeon Thomas H. Streets of the Solace says that the ship quarantined at Guantanamo on the 10th inst., just in time to take aboard the marines who had been wounded in the attack on the ship. The ship went to the vessels of the squadron and collected their sick. There are only nine sick men on all the vessels, and the others who were transferred to the Solace.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

FRESNO, June 23.—The Republican County Convention was in session all day today, but in spite of the delegates was unable to finish its business. The convention hall was handsomely decorated with red, white and blue bunting, flags and palms, and a band had been engaged to play patriotic airs. Great enthusiasm was displayed, and a strong ticket was put up. Resolutions were adopted commending the national administration, endorsing its conduct of the war, and praising the patriotic army and the brilliant victories already gained.

Senator Perkins was praised for his advocacy of the annexation of Hawaii, and White campaign resolutions were also passed stating it to be the sense of the convention that this part of the seventh Congress District should be allowed to nominate a candidate for Congress this time. The Republican administration of county affairs was defended and the delegates pledged further economy were made. T. K. THE DAVIS ESTATE.

Contest is Ended and the Threatened
Appeal is Withdrawn.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 23.—The contest over the estate of the late Jacob Z. Davis is at an end. The verdict of a jury, rendered some months ago in Judge Coffey's court, by which the holographic will of the deceased was held to be genuine and valid, will remain undisturbed. No appeal was given, and it looked as though the Supreme Court would have to pass upon the matter. But today the attorneys on both sides made the announcement in court that the contest was withdrawn. Judge Coffey made the necessary order, and the property, amounting to about $100,000, will be distributed to the heirs.

It is said that the defeated contestant had been promised a large sum of money to drop the contest. That is the compromise upon which the case has been settled. Most of the contestants are in Philadelphia, and the case will be settled there.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW LONDON (Conn.), June 23.—The great intercollegiate aquatic contests, which for months have been looked forward to by thousands, took place today, and the results again place Cornell on the pedestal of fame as the champion university crew of America, and to the freshmen of Yale belongs the honor of success in the triangular race with the youngsters of Harvard and Cornell.

The two races were strikingly inconsistent with each other, in that the one stands as a perfect antithesis of the other. The university race, which was rowed down stream at 12:30 o'clock, this afternoon, was a procession of the first-class, while the freshmen contest was a battle royal.

The first race was uninteresting except to Cornellians, after the first quarter of a mile had been rowed. The slight lead which Yale secured at the start was then taken away by Cornell at this point, and Courtney's men were not again headed. The slight lead Harvard was never in the race.

Prettier form and work has never been seen in America than that presented by Capt. Colson and his Cornell crew throughout the race. The second course, is capable of characterization as first class, when not subjected to the deadly parallel with Cornell. Harvard was never a factor in the running.

The time of the winning crew, as given by the race officials, was 23:48, the slowest time made in a university race for several years, but this is attributed to a head wind and the fact that Cornell was not quite as fast as the freshmen of Yale.

The university race of the early afternoon was tame as a contest, the freshmen race, which was started at 5:03 o'clock, was thrilling to the last degree. Every yard of the course was fought viciously, and the result was in doubt until the second half mile, when Cornell won the race.

The time of the winning crew, as given by the race officials, was 23:48, the slowest time made in a university race for several years, but this is attributed to a head wind and the fact that Cornell was not quite as fast as the freshmen of Yale.

Yale spurred and maintained her advantage, but Cornell was not equal to the strain, and at the last moment Harvard, in a desperate effort, shot ahead of the Cornell youngsters and crossed the half mile length behind Yale.

THE FIRST RACE.

NEW LONDON (Conn.), June 23.—Cornell won the tri-university boat race on the Thames River course today, the four miles being rowed in 23m. 48s. Yale crossed the finish line three and one-half boat lengths behind the winner, and twelve lengths ahead of Harvard. Last year's Poughkeepsie regatta, Cornell won in 20m. 34s.; Yale second, 20m. 44s., and Harvard last, 21m.

Shortly after 12 o'clock, the Ithacans left their quarters, two miles down the river, and proceeded to the starting line. At the appointed time, 12:30 p.m., the three crews were at their respective starting points. Referee Matthews shouted his final instructions to the waiting crews, and gave the order, "Get ready." A moment of suspense, a puff of smoke, a report, and the boats were off.

Effective starts were made by all of the crews. If there was any advantage, it belonged to Yale. The nose of her shell jumped to the fore, and Cornell was violently hugging it, and Harvard's prow a few short feet to the rear. Yale was the first to reach the half mile mark, and the racing pace of thirty-four strokes to the minute. Cornell was soon around to the same, and in a few minutes the Cornellians were within a few feet of the half mile mark.

The long, sweeping Cook stroke sent Yale to the front a quarter of a length, where it hung for perhaps a quarter of a mile. The form of Harvard was fairly good, but during the first quarter, where the Cornellians were fully abreast, and at the half mile behind nearly a length.

From the quarter Cornell's strong stroke began to assert itself, and a little later Yale was second in the race. At the half Cornell was a few feet ahead, and Harvard was a few feet behind. The Cornellians were now a few short feet to the rear. Yale was the first to reach the half mile mark, and the racing pace of thirty-four strokes to the minute. [ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW LONDON (Conn.), June 23.—The three freshmen crews of Yale, Harvard, and Cornell rowed one of the best races ever seen on the Thames this afternoon. Yale won, but Harvard spurred at the finish and was so close a second that only a few feet separated the two crews, while the boat of Cornell was opposite No. 7 of Harvard's. It was a royal battle from start to finish, with Cornell leading at first, Yale catching her at the one-mile, and Harvard making a grand rally and ending half length ahead of Yale.

Considering the weather conditions, with the wind blowing strong up stream, and the tide also running in the direction of the race, it was, though the slowest since 1892. Every one of the freshmen came over the line in the very best condition. The race was called for 1 o'clock, but a strong wind caused a postponement, and it was 5:06 o'clock when the pistol was fired. Harvard caught the water first and shot ahead about three feet; Cornell, however, was right after the Cambridge eight, and with the first stroke they had drawn up even and then passed her.

Harvard rowed about 34 at the start; Cornell, 32 and Yale 35. The race to the first half-mile was a close one, Cornell being in the lead, with her rivals well lapped on her quarter. Yale, however, put in a good spurt just before the mile and passed Harvard. At the first mile Yale crept up even with Cornell, and the two crews swept by the mark with absolute equality. No difference between them while Harvard was not over a quarter of a length behind.

The next stroke after the crews crossed the mile flag put Yale a foot in the lead, but Cornell recovered in the next, and in the half-mile following the crews were again equal. Cornell showing ahead, and then the other, while Harvard seemed content to have the nose of her shell at No. 4 of the Yale boat. Just as the half-mile was reached, Cornell's shells started a finish has not been seen on the water for many a year. Harvard's coxswain, Jacques Fiedel, was a fine fellow, responded nobly, with a spurt that put them almost on even terms with Cornell.

Another eighth of a mile from the finish line Cornell put on another spurt and established a slight lead over Harvard, but could not catch Yale. As the Harvard crew passed Cornell's men, and the shell jumped this time well beyond Cornell, and with only a few yards distant, the Cambridge eight started a second place and pluckily started after Yale. Inch by inch they gained, pulling a fine stroke, and the Cambridge eight through the water without a hitch, and the finish line was not quite far enough away, and with Harvard's boat at the tail of the race, the crew sped over the line, and Yale had won.

DEATH CAME SUDDENLY.

DEPUTY SUPREME COURT CLERK

F. C. WOODBURY IS NO MORE.

Found Dead on a Couch in the Chamber of the Court—Heart Disease Supposed to Be the Cause of Death—Strange Circumstances.

Frank C. Woodbury, deputy clerk of the State Supreme Court, was found dead on a couch in a rear room of the Supreme Court chambers in the Bullard Block, yesterday afternoon. While the position of the body and its condition indicated that he died from natural causes, there are circumstances that call for a coroner's inquest to determine the manner of his death.

Mr. Woodbury was last seen alive by his office assistant, James Moreno, about 6 o'clock Wednesday evening. At that hour, which was a very unusual one for Woodbury to be at his office, he was in one of the rear rooms, occupied by the Supreme Court, and appeared very despondent. Mr. Moreno asked him if anything ailed him, and he replied that he was all right. Moreno soon afterward left him, and that was the last seen of him alive.

Yesterday Moreno wondered why Mr.

Woodbury did not show up for duty at the office as usual. Several persons called to see him during the forenoon. To all visitors Mr. Moreno said that his chief had not yet arrived, but was momentarily expected.

A little after 2 o'clock in the afternoon,

Mr. Moreno was showing Mr. Jeffrey, an attorney, the chambers from Colorado, through the Supreme Court rooms. On entering one of the rear chambers they saw Mr. Woodbury reclining on a couch. He did not move. Mr. Moreno went near him, and found he was dead. The body was still warm, except at the extremities.

Moreno immediately telephoned for a coroner. He also telephoned for a doctor. Dr. J. H. Smith, who arrived soon and took charge of the remains. The body was placed on a couch in the rear chamber, and a coroner's inquest was held at 10 o'clock this morning.

On a table near the couch on which

Woodbury died lay his hat and a revolver. He was never before known to carry a weapon, and his friends are at a loss to account for his having one on the occasion. His strange conduct on the day preceding his death might give color to the theory of suicide, but there is nothing to indicate that he died from other than natural causes. The autopsy today will probably determine this.

Mr. Woodbury came to Los Angeles

from San Francisco in the early '80s and founded the Woodbury Business College, which is still one of the thriving educational institutions of the city. Prior to embarking in this enterprise he was part proprietor and secretary of the Hawaiian Colonization Co., of San Francisco. In the latter position he was elected to the Board of Education in this city. When Trowbridge H. ## ANNUAL RALLY OF THE CHRISTIAN ENDEAVORERS.

Overwhelming Audience at the First Session of the State Society's Gathering.

ADDRESS BY DR. GEORGE ADAMS

DECLARES THIS THE BEST AGE THE WORLD HAS SEEN.

A Warning Against Egotism in Religion—With the Arriving Delegates—The Programme for Today.

With sacred song and prayer, the Christian Endeavor host last evening ushered in the annual State Convention at the First Baptist Church.

Auditorium, Sunday-school room and galleries, pulpits, aisles and choir-rail, all were overflowing with the Endeavorers. The purple and gold were everywhere, twinkled about the galleries, flaunting in gorgeous banners and on the white caps of the committee members. Every one, old and young, wore the Christian Endeavor button. The gathering was largely of young people, and the beautiful church, filled to the doors with fresh, youthful faces, with here and there a white-haired man, all alive with the enthusiasm of the same high purpose, presented an inspiring sight.

The opening session began with a service of prayer and music. He was not the outcropping of what was best in his age. He was something by himself. He was thousands of years ahead of his age, and he wasn't caught up with his yet.

"This world is a great deal better place now than it was when people now in this house were born, seventy years ago. This is the best and happiest age the world has ever seen. The laboring man is happier and better cared for now than he has been in any previous age of the world. There are more advantages and opportunities now than ever before. The laboring man is happier and better cared for now than he has been in any previous age of the world. There are more advantages and opportunities now than ever before.

There were three sessions today for the 2500 Endeavorers gathered for the convention, at 8:30 a.m., at 1:15 p.m., and at 7:15 p.m. Most of the delegates have arrived, though more are coming today. The afternoon session today will see the convention in full activity.

OPENING SESSION.

The big auditorium was already crowded when President Merrill mounted the platform, at 7:15 o'clock, and declared the convention begun, but fresh crowds poured in during all the next half-hour.

Rev. A. W. Rider conducted the opening

devotions. The excellent convention orchestra, organized and directed by W. H. Mead, rendered "The Convention March," specially composed for the occasion by M. F. Mason. This inspiring conclusion was followed by "Send Out Thy Light," by Gounod, rendered by a chorus of forty voices, directed by M. F. Mason, with Miss Anna Douglas as soloist. A series of crisp and cordial speeches of welcome were delivered by Los Angeles speakers. Mayor J. P. Snyder spoke first, in part as follows:

"It is only a few years since that Christian Endeavorers were but a handful in number. Today, however, the number is numerous, the work of the organization is little more than a baby in the cradle, and you are working in a noble cause. Your fellow-believers in the sight of God. Your organization is, in my opinion, the best in the United States. I feel confident that ten years from now you will have an organization many times more powerful than the one of today. There is a growing tendency among the Christian people to stay away from the ballot-box. The tendency should be the other way. They should be at the ballot-box from sun up to sun down, securing to themselves the rights to which they are entitled by reason of being good citizens."

Welcome was extended to the visitors

on behalf of the churches of Los Angeles by Rev. A. C. Smith, on behalf of the City Union, by H. H. Lewis, and on behalf of the Junior and Intermediate Endeavorers by Robert Shley.

J. E. Suhr, president of the Alameda

County Union, responded for the visitors. He thanked the people of the city for the hospitality shown to the delegates, and told of the feeling of the northern Endeavorers when they were met forty miles from Los Angeles by the welcoming committee.

"We are going to go away from here

uplifted, elevated," said Mr. Suhr, filled with new vigor and enthusiasm. The church is beginning to realize, under the influence of youth, that religion is not a hospital, but an army, with a place for every one. This convention is a camp of war, called to discuss plans for the campaign under the cross of Christ. Let your response be a more pure life, a more consecrated soul."

DR. ADAMS'S ADDRESS.

"Jesus, the Light of the World," was the theme of Rev. George Adams of San Francisco, the orator of the evening. He spoke in part as follows:

"The ministers who preach against card-playing and dancing and theater-going waste their ammunition. I should like to tell them to stop. Let in the light of Christ, and there will be no need to waste time talking against such things. Christianity is a positive religion, not a negative one. It is not 'thou shalt not,' but 'thou shalt.'"

"Most of our present knowledge is inspiration. God holds back knowledge until we are ready for it. He wants us to grow up to it. That is why the Holy Spirit is so important. In great philosophic or scientific knowledge so often at the same time flashes into the mind of some other man on the other side of the world. It is certain that all his knowledge was inspirational. Most of our scientific knowledge has come to us in the same way. Science is one of the latest of the things in the world. If you are going to change theology as fast as science, you've got to be lively. I say to you, 'Be human! Be human! Be human!'"

"Corresponding Secretaries: Their Relation to the District Union." This was discussed by Miss M. Phebe Jones of Anaheim, district corresponding secretary. Each of these addresses was followed by an "open parliament." A discussion of "The Spiritual Blessedness of Christian Fellowship" followed, and the rally ended with a service of prayer for the approaching convention.

The officers of the Southern California District Christian Endeavor Union are: President, J. E. Coulthart.

Citizenship League.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 23.—The National Christian Citizenship League in its fifth annual call for the celebration of the Fourth of July requests all patriots to utilize the national holiday in impressing the need of that righteousness which exalteth a nation, and appeals in particular to all pastors, churches, young people's organizations, all temperance and patriotic societies, and all other leaders, to unite in arranging such celebrations, mass meetings and other exercises as shall make it indeed a "new Fourth of July," which shall be marked, "not only by rejoicings over our unprecedented national blessings, but also by the growth of a higher patriotism that shall eventuate in a new order of things wherein present evils will be impossible."

STATE CONVENTION.

Taylorites Branch of the People's Party to Meet in July.

[A. P. EARLY MORNING REPORT.]

CHICAGO, June 23.—The branch of the People's party in this State headed by Dr. H. S. Taylor, has issued a call for a State convention to meet in Springfield on July 12. That is also the date for the Democratic State Convention, and a fusion is expected.

The Federal State Convention held at Springfield on May 17 agreed to disagree. The Taylor faction tried to prevent the nomination of a State ticket until the Democratic State Convention. They were opposed by the Rock-rooted Populists in the convention. The Taylorites being refused representation they withdrew and subsequently effected an organization of its own.

PERFECT MANHOOD

Perfect Manhood, a most desirably physical condition, free from all indications of nervous debility, lost vitality, contracted ailments, etc., is prized above all other earthly attainments. And yet there are thousands of men, so called out of respect and according to custom, who, if their dreadful secrets were known, are but poor specimens of true, robust, competent manhood.

Such miserable mortals need not continue on the downward road, that much-traveled thoroughfare, which leads either to a sea of physical wrecks, the mad-house or the disgraceful grave of the suicide.

The time-tried, competent and trustworthy physicians of Dr. Meyers & Co.'s Medical Institute cure and restore the most dangerous and complicated ailments of men. They have been a success for 17 years. Consult them, or write for their private book and symptom blank, it will cost you nothing. All letters confidential.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE. BUT LITTLE DONE.

THE WATER CONFERENCE NOT FRUITFUL OF RESULTS.

List of Property Desired by the City to Be Furnished the Water Company—Another Conference.

WORDY WARFARE IN COURT.

A MINING SUIT INVOLVING MILLIONS OF DOLLARS.

Henry Schultz, the Music Teacher, Coerced of Bargain—Mrs. Bentley of Calabasas Acts as Her Own Attorney.

The conference yesterday afternoon between the Water Supply Committee of the City Council and representatives of the Los Angeles City Water Company did not result in bringing the parties to an understanding of the course to be followed in the settlement of the water question, and but little was accomplished. The committee is to submit to the company a statement of what property is to be included in the proposed arbitration. Another conference is to be held next Thursday, at which time it is expected that a definite statement will be made by the water company as to just what it will do.

The first of the annual estimates of expenses for the coming fiscal year, which begins July 1, was filed yesterday with the City Auditor by the City Engineer. He asks for a slight increase in his force, the difference in cost being about $5000.

Before passing finally upon the contested matter of severing a number of streets in the Seventh Ward, the Sewer Committee will make a personal examination of the streets to determine whether the sewers are necessary from a sanitary standpoint.

The work on the assessment rolls of the city has been about completed, and will be turned over to the City Clerk July 1. The total amount of the assessment will not be much greater than that of last year.

Five protests against the report of the commissioners who had charge of the work of assessing damages and benefits for the opening and widening of Hoover street between Washington and Twentieth have been filed in the City Clerk's office.

A war of words was provoked in the Township Court yesterday by a remark made by a juror who intimated that doubtful complaints that followed reflected somewhat upon the three persons who participated in the hearing.

First, the juror said he didn't want to listen to any more "twaddle"—whatever that may be; and then, the juror said he didn't want to listen to any more "twaddle"—whatever that may be; and then, the juror said he didn't want to listen to any more "twaddle"—whatever that may be.

East Side companies were to be included.

As to this point, the representatives of the city indicated the desire of the city to take all such property as had, for a source of its supply of water, the Los Angeles River. The city laid no claim to the system supplied on the East Side by springs, or the water supply which was piped from Garvanza. As to the Crystal Springs property the city representatives were willing to include in the purchase the pipe of that company, but it was not admitted by the city that it was obliged to pay for the water now flowing through these pipes. That water the city already claims as its own, and therefore is unwilling to include it among the property of the company which it must purchase.

In regard to arbitration, Judge Chapman said that the company was willing to settle the matter in that way, but it was possible to arrange the details for such a settlement. There were many objections which the company urged against arbitration in the present status of affairs, but if the proper preparations were made the company was not unwilling to proceed to arbitration. City Attorney Dunn pointed out the failure of submitting a bond proposition to the vote of the city before it was known what the price would be. He said it would be needless to vote for a blank issue of bonds large enough to cover any possible contingency, in fact he doubted the legality of such a measure. In spite of this Judge Chapman said that if the city had already had its bond election and was ready now to issue bonds for the purpose of the plan, the matter of settlement would be much easier. He again argued that if the company agreed to submit the matter to arbitration, it would be bound to abide by the result, while the people would be released from liability if the people refused to vote for the bond issue.

After a long discussion it was decided that the committee submit to the city a statement of what property it desired to be included in the proposed arbitration. Another conference is to be held next Thursday, at which time it is expected that a definite statement will be made by the water company as to just what it will do.

Los Angeles Daily Times.

Until the deputies in the clerk's office have made the total, the exact amount of the city's assessed valuation for purposes of taxation will not be known, but it is not likely the total will be little, if any, over $50,000,000. Last year deductions amounting to nearly or quite $1,000,000 were made by the Board of Equalization, and a quarter of a million of this consists of property mortgaged to the regents of the University of Southern California, which is not subject to any taxation. The tax rate will probably not be increased for the coming year.

Two more protests against the report of the commissioners who assessed the benefits and damages for the opening and widening of Hoover street between Washington and Twentieth have been filed in the City Clerk's office. all he looked on sweetly and placidly through his spectacles, but he evidently had laid out some plan of strategic action, for a nice beveled, sharp-edged, heavy ink bottle was within handy reach, and by a rapid hand movement, he might have occupied a commanding position, from which to make good generalship compensate for physical discrepancy.

But the white-winged dove of peace came fluttering in at the window, and the trial proceeded uninterrupted from thence on to an end. The jury was out for about two hours, and at 3 o'clock came into court stating that they could not agree, and that no probability existed of their being able to do so. In such case Justice Young ordered them discharged, and the trial proceeded uninterrupted from thence on to an end.

Millions in It.
The trial of the suit of Mrs. Letitia C. Boyce against Hattie L. Wells, heard by Judge Van Dyke in Department Four, was concluded yesterday. This was the case wherein two deeds had been placed in escrow, and the point in contest was whether the proper delivery had been made.

In giving judgment for the defendant, the court spoke very tersely of the methods adopted, and delivered his opinion in part as follows: "To say the least, the deeds were surreptitiously taken from the custody of those with whom they were deposited, and were not delivered to the plaintiff, but were used to defraud the owner. This, without attaching any discredit to the present owner, who may have received it innocently into his own hands, is a direct part in the transaction and who were inspired by fraudulent motives."

By this judgment of court the 160 acres of land in Antelope Valley will now revert to the defendant.

SCALING DOWN HIS BILL.

WALTER WEBB'S EXPENSE ACCOUNT TO BE RECONSIDERED.

Board of Education Will Investigate the Discredited School Expenses—Pico Heights School Contract Awarded.

The decision to recall for reconsideration in meeting of the full board the notorious Webb expense bill for his trip East to the National Educational Convention last July, and the awarding of the contract for the new Pico Heights school, to Murphy & McLennan for $10,000, were the important business transacted at the special meeting of the Board of Education yesterday afternoon.

Yesterday's action means that Webb's claim for the expenses of his eastern trip is to be shaved down to a less exorbitant figure than that allowed by the board. When Walter L. Webb, the discredited school trustee, returned from the convention he demanded $500 to cover the expenses of his bill. The bill was shaved to $423.23, and then allowed by the board. The warrant was sent to the City Auditor a few days ago and then presented to the Board of Education yesterday morning. Webb, before the Auditor had an opportunity to refuse to pay it, as he had intimated that he would do. Present, Charles C. Davis brought up the matter yesterday.

"The bill contained," said Mr. Davis, "a demand for railroad fare. The board discovered that Mr. Webb went East on a pass. I have seen the railroad officials, and they corroborated this statement. There is no question about it."

Mr. Braly moved "that the warrant be recalled for reconsideration at a regular meeting of the board. President Davis called Mr. Webb to the chair and seconded the motion. All the members present, Messrs. Poor, Davis, Braly and Bragg, voted for reconsideration, with the single exception of Mr. Simonton, who, from the delicacy of his position as Webb's successor, asked to be excused from voting. The reconsideration means that the item of railroad fare will be stricken from the demand, and probably the demands for alleged dinners to newspaper men to secure their aid in endeavoring to win the convention for Los Angeles, etc., will be heroically trimmed.

There were a large number of bids for the new nine-room Pico-Heights school, to replace the four-room building recently burned, and Murphy & McLennan secured the contract as the lowest bidder. They were required to give bond for half the amount. They must pay a penalty of $25 a day for each day over seventy-five days before the building is completed, and they will receive a bonus of $10 a day for each day saved before that time. Guy Hogan was made superintendent of construction, instead of the architect, Charles L. Strange. Several minor changes in the specifications were ordered made before the contract is signed.

A NEW SUGAR FACTORY.

New York Capitalists to Operate on Mrs. Bixby's Ranch.

A project in on foot to build a new sugar factory four miles from Long Beach. W. H. Holabird will leave for the East Friday to consult with New York capitalists, who are considering the purchase of an 8000-acre tract of land owned by Mrs. John W. Bixby, a part of the great Alamitos ranch. The land is a parallelogram immediately adjoining the holdings of the company, which is building a factory on the Alamitos ranch. Mr. Holabird declares there is less water in the new tract than in any beet-sugar land yet made use of in Southern California, and an inexhaustible supply of artesian water.

"The question of whether or not the new factory is built," said Mr. Holabird yesterday, "depends largely upon the outcome of the Philippines question. If the Philippines are annexed, a great sugar-producing country will be added to the territory of the United States. Unless restrictions are imposed upon the importation of sugar, the effect upon the American sugar industry will be disastrous. That is the question which makes the New York capitalists cautious at present."

WIFE WILL BURY HIM.
